

OUR PEOPLE. ————— OUR STORIES.

“Today marks the beginning of summer for UK. This past weekend there were numerous commencement ceremonies and events that sent students off on the next adventure of their lives. I would expect after this year of Covid, that they will be prepared for anything that life throws their way. Masks, testing, vaccinations, hybrid, traditional, remote, meals to go, distancing, tents, the list goes on and on. It has been a challenging year for them, and they mastered it well.

All of you did so as well. Our Facilities Management team rose to the occasion and were unrelenting in our support of campus, be it at Healthcare, Athletics or the campus core. You moved classroom furniture, sanitized and cleaned with fervor, managed HVAC systems and fought a horrible winter storm all while doing what you traditionally do to maintain our campus.

While many left, you planted yourselves here allowing UK operations to continue. Without your loyalty, dedication, amazing skills, and pride for what you do, UK would have been a very different place this past year. Amazing work! You are my heroes. Thank you for helping make the University of Kentucky the wonderful place that it is.”

Last week, we featured pictures of many of our student workers and full-timers who are wrapping a semester of classes. We received several more submissions late last week from Med Center Facilities. Congrats to these folks and to anyone not pictured that finished finals last week.
